The official count will be made Aug. 20 and several contests will remain in doubt until the count is completed.

Judge Bob Bradley was badly defeated for representative in Hopkins, county being beaten by H.F. S. Bailey by 600 majority.

L. C. Littrell, editor of the Owenton Democrat, was nominated for Senator in the Owen-Boone-Galiatin district. He beat Jno. W. Douglas, of Owen county.

It is not likely that trouble with Mexico can be averted much longer. The Mexicans along the border are doing all they can to provoke intervention and Texans are already arming to resist their invasion.9

Gen. Auguste, at the heal of 200 troops, attacked St. Marc last Saturday and was repulsed by a Haitien committee of safety. Rear Admiral Caperton reported that Gen. Auguste and four of his followers were kliled.

One of the speakership booms was punctured when R presentative J. Guthrie Coke, who served in the Legislature from Logan county at the last session, was beaten for the Democratic renomination by his opponent, Lasiey.

One of the surprises of the primary was the defeat of Dr. J. N. McCormack of Bowling Green, for the Democratic nomination for Representative from the Bowling Green district of Warren county. He was beaten by Joe Schneiter, a popular Democrat of Bowling Green, by 106 majority. Mr. Schneiter's victory is all the more remarkable from the fact that he did not enter the race until two weeks before the primary.

The neat coup of Joe F. Bosworth. of Middlesboro, in winning the Republican nomination for Representative in the Legislature in the Bell-Harlan-Perry-Leslie district, after he had withdrawn from the race, is another evidence of his political astuteness. He "withdrew" a few days before the primary, and the trick worked, his opponent being thrown offi their guard; meanwhile Joe "cleaned up" in Bell county and landed the nomination.

A special train carrying $52 000; 000 worth of gold and securities which had been shipped by the Bank of England from London by way of Halifax, N. S., to New York, arrived Weinesday. The train was composed of several steel cas and was guarded by forty armed men. Of the total shipment, $35,000,000 was in go'd and was believed to be in the form of American double eagles-The weight of the gold shipment was about sevenly five tons. It was s.id to be the largest single shipment of gold ever sent across the Atlantic Ocean in one vessei.

Since the primary is over and the State ticket has been chosen, Democrats are turning their attention to the piatform on which the nominees will make the race in November. The concensus of opinion among the party leaders is that the State convention to draft the par y creed should be held in Louisville about September 1 to 5, and this likely will be the action of the Democratic State Committees, which are expecied to be convened for this purpose in the next week or so. Among those being preminently mentioned for temporary chalrman of the platform convention is Con-gressman Ben J. hnson, of Bards-town, the distinguished Representative of the Fourth district. Senstor Ollie James has a'so been sug-gested for the place, but he is said to favor Congressman Johnson for the hono:.-Times.

WOMEN THIEVES IN CHURCHES

Boston Complains That Band is Sys-tematically "Working" the Sacred Edifices of That City.

A clever band of woman thieves is suspected of "working" the wealthy congregations of several large Boston churches. Rectors and sextons of at least two houses of worship have been notified recently of purse and handhag thefts during services. Circumstances have led to the conviction that it is the same band that operated last spring among Back Bay churchgoers. Trinity Church in Copley square and St. Paul's Episcopai Cathedral have been visited by members of the female gang lately.

The suspects are all women. One of them, at least, disguises herself in deep mourning, apparently to throw her prospective victims off their guard. Others of the suspected hand are stunningly gowned girls, attired always in the latest styles. One of the suspecta is about fifty years old, another is said to he not more than twenty. Invariahly the thefts are from women in the congregations, and most often the stolen articles disappear during communion services, when the communicants leave their pews to receive the sacrament. They return to find that the demure, well-attired girl who sat heside them is gone; so also is the purse or handbag, containing money or jewelry, perhaps, which they had left on the cushioned scat when they went forward. Or again, the sorrow ful aged woman in widow's weeds. whose heavy hiack veil had completely hidden her features, has vanished and the worshiper's costly muff or rich fur piece is missing, too .- Bostor italians and Greeks, With Smail Forces, Captured Constantinople In Year 1453.

GOING BACK INTO HISTORY

On account of the fact that the Turks are in this great European war it is interesting to recall from the pages of history that on May 29, 1453, the forces of the Italians and Greeks, numbering only about 14,000, conquered Constantinopie against an estimated defending army of Turks of 200,000. This has been disputed in history as to numbers engaged, but the salient fact remains that the city founded by the Emperor Constantine was captured by the Italians and

The gross earnings of the telephone companies last year totaled $17,297,-268, with grosa operating expenses of something over $12,000,000. The net earnings were $4,500,000. The gross earnings were equal to $33 per telephone. The total number of telephones is 521,144, or one for every 15 of the population. The average is exceeded only by the United States.

DEATH AS AN ADVENTURE

Editor's Comment on Remark That is Said to Hava Been Made by Charles Frohman.

"Why ahould we fear death?" said Charles Frohman of New York, aboard the Lusitania as he gave his life-helt to a woman. "It is the greatest adventure that can come to one." The words were distinctive to an American gentleman facing finality. Death an adventure! And so it is when one has lived largely. Then, the full measure of earthly experience having heen lived, eternal values established and the divine in us unfolding daily, it holds the yet richer promises and expectation in that continuation we hope for and of which we know so little. Change, growth, the opportunity to live more largely, and yet more heautifully. In the other event, the illusions of life all gone, its futilities weighing us down, the pitcher broken at the well, and the final weariness at hand, is death not a great and heautiful hazard? Despite its outward ugliness, a carcass at the hottom of tho sea, a mangled hody rotting in a descreed trench, does it not captivate the imagination? Extinction, maybo; a hlotting out, that complete and dreamiess peace from which there is no awakening, or yet-new life, new leaf to suit the newer day. A chanco to mend the hroken shard, the rehirth of old enthusiasms, illusion recreated, the larger aspiration, the fuller life. After all, what a gamble with unseen forces death is! Incidentally, how hrave and how heautiful must have heen, must still he a aoul which, under such circumstances, could have uttered a sentiment so exaited. To go, not like a quarry slave, hut to wrap the drapcries of the deep ahout one and lie down peacefully-isn't it fine? Isn't it the quality that holongs pecultarity to American manhood?—Tom Bodine in the Paris (Mo.) Mercury.

WORK FOR TRADE EXPANSION

United States Has Splendid Chance to Increase its Commerce With Eastern Countries.

A delegation of distinguished Chinese merchants and statesmen have done this country the honor to visit us with the expressed purpose of learning western ways from us, which they deem superior to their own. It is a compliment which is duly appreciated, and, while Uncle Sam is entirely willing and ready to act the part of schoolmaster, he should also take advantage of the occasion to become a student and learn from others while teaching them. He can learn from the visiting Chinese gentlemen a lesson in progress and enterprise. What they are doing hy coming here Uncle Sam should also do by sending delegations to other countries on a similar mission. We ought to send representatives and observing business men and statesmen to the countries south of us. We, too, want to know what and how to buy and we want to know what our neighbors have to seil, and what they wish to huy from us. Similar delegations could be sent to the orient, and especially to China, that is awakening, and where 400,000,000 people other thoughts. EVERY CONTESTANT A WINNER AND NOBODY CAN LOSE

Trip To Mammoth Cave Will Not Cost A Cent

The Kentuckian has put on a subscription campaign which began July 19, which every contestant will be a prize winner, in which the contestants can work together and help each other and all unite in a common purpose. The plan is a simple one and the proposition is that every lady or girl who secures a club of 20 subscribers to the Kentuckian at $2 for a year's subscription, or a larger number of shorter term ones to make $40, will be given a FREE TRIP to MAMMOTH CAVE, all expenses paid, occupying two days.

Trips to the Cave are always fascinating, especially to the young, and everybody desires at some time to see this greatest of all caverns, the one thing above all else that makes Kentucky a mecca for tourists the world over. Even those who have seen the Cave before find something attractive in visits again and again. The Cave is so vast, its wonders so great and its attractions so numerous that one never tires of inspecting its miles and miles of underground passages.

There is not a neighborhood in Christian or adjoining counties in which some young lady cannot in one day secure 20 subscribers who will pay for a year's subscription to the Kentuckian and the deed is done, and this wonder of the world may be visited without its costing her one cent. The rules of the contest will be easily understood and capable of no understanding.

Subscriptions May Be Sent In at Any Time From Now Until September 15.

They may be for a year or fractional parts of a year to make up $40 in each club. They may be for one year or more than one, not to exceed 5 years to any one Voluntary renewals in the office cannot be credited to clubs. The young ladies may secure rewards but must bring or send subscriptions in themselves.

Should any girl fail to collect a full club, she may transfer her strength to some friend, or by paying the amount necessary to complete the cost of the trip in cash, she may go on the same basis as the others.

The Contest Began Monday, July 19th And Will Close September 15th.

There will be no restrictions or limitations as to the territory. Get subscribers anywhere in or out of the county.

Only such payments on subscriptions as are made on or after July 19 will be included in clubs.

The contest will be conducted by the Business Manager of The Kentuckian and the names of those who desire to enter the contest for the trips offered will be given every possible assistance in getting up clubs.

In former contests many girls who did effective work in securing subscribers failed to secure awards, because others got more subscribers. This time every dollar collected represents a fixed value and every girl who gets up a club will be sure of the trip. The more the merrier. We would like to take 100 girls on this great outing.

ALL FOR A RECEIPT BOOK NOW AND GET BUSY. SEE IF YOU CANNOT CINCH THE TRIP BY ONE DAY'S WORK.

Dr. Dennis invented the trap while in Corpus Christi, Tex., where he went on account of ill health. He were being employed to rid the country of such pestilences as rats, English sparrows and other small animals and concluded his observations with the invention of the trap. It was patented in May 8, of this year. Later Dr. Denn's met Mr. Metcalfe in Beaumost, Tex., and he became interested in the prespects of the trap and purchased a part interestin the ownership of it.

They decided later to come to Christian county to make temporary headquarters. They expect to organize a company for the manufacture of the trap at a later date and may locate the manufacturing plant here. Since they have been here they have taken over $3'0 worth of orders for the trap.

The trap was originally designed to catch only smal'er animals, but it is equally as successful for trapping animals of larger size, such as opossums, coons, minks, foxes and rabsir gle catch. He has caught as many as six squirrels at a time and says with favorable conditions he could catch over a hundred sparrows.

One of the best features of the trap is that it does not injure the animals and is, on account of that, especially adapted to trapping fur bearing animals. The trap is now on exhibition in the Metcalfe lot and Dr. Dennis and Mr. Metcalfe, who have The school offers all the opportunitheir headquarters tomporarily at the Avalon, are glad to show and explain it to any one who is interested in the use of traps.

Remarkable Singing Stone,

One of the most remarkable of singng stones is to be found on the southwest coast of the island of Hawaii, in the group of islands bearing that name. This is a sand bank. It nppears that a tone like that of a melodeon is produced by moving one's hand in a circle through the toose sand. If the observer kneel, with both hands in the sand, and slide down the bank, the sound becomes louder and louder until it resembles distant thunder. The greatest sound is produced from this sand bank when one lies prone on it and another person drags him by the heels down the bank, carrying a large quantity of sand down with him.

LOVE ON A MOUNTAIN

By ELSA DORAN.

The mountain seemed very near the sky on that hot July day. The sun burned the sparse grass around the old farmhouse, but Amos Bentiy shivered and moved his chair out of the shade of the apple tres.

"Seems like the wind's in the east, honey," he said to Priscilla.

The girl looked down and a wistful smile curved her lips. She was pale with the intense heat, but she knew that the old man's sluggish blood was Priscilla stood on the doorstone looking off at the hills which billowed away into a dim blue haze.

The thought that was ever present smote her sharply now. If anything happened to grandfather what should she do? What could she do?

Teach school, of course, and there were her domestic talents. Was she not even now supporting herself and her grandfather by the sale of her pickies and preserves, her canned fruit, her potted mincement?

She could continue to do that, hut it would be horribly lonesome on the mountain top—and unsafe to stay there alone. Priscilla was young. She longed for pleasure, for love.

She blushed at the thought, and smiled as she remembered her mother'a oft-repeated advice. "Do your duty, my dear, and Love will find you out-no matter where you hide!"

"Fancy Love finding me atop of Rattiem mountain!" laughed Priscilla, as she took down a shining tin pail. "In the meantime, while I'm waiting for him, I'll pick those blackberries before the birds eat them up.'

The farther side of the field bordered the woods, and the blackberry thicket between was laden with fruit.

In the deep shadow of her pink sunhonnet, Pricilla did not see the dark clouds piling up in the southwest. Suddenly came the avalanche of great, warm drops that soon became a heavy down pour.

Priscilla turned to flee.

A blackberry vine caught her foot and she fell full length on the ground. Horrible pains darted through her ankle as ahe tried to wriggie to her feet. Her elbows were deep in the crushed blackberries from her overturned pail. "Wait a moment!" cailed a man's voice, and a pair of strong hands gently lifted Priscilla from her Ignoble position and set her upon her feet. She winced, screamed and fainted in her rescuer's arms. "The dickens!" whistled the young man as he staggered across the field with his burden, for he was small and stender and, although muscular for one of his build, he found Priscilia no light matter. He reached the little farmhouse, and, as he almost fell up the atepa. the kitchen door opened and grandfather's worried face appeared. "What'a happened to Prissy?" the old man quavered.

"Sprained ankie, I think," panted Priscilla's deliverer as he laid her down on the sofa in the sitting room. "Got any smelling saits?"

But Priscitla was recovering rapidly. Her eyes opened and met n pair of very blue eyea in a thin, brown face-a strong face, but a winning one.

"Yes, sir," he was saying to grandfather in the most respectful voice, was named. "hero's my card. I represent the Pepperton Pickle and Preserve com-

Priscilia sat up on the conch and moved her aloe and stocking, and, with the aid of her rescuer, was ensaged in putting a cold compress on the damaged ankie. As in a dream she saw the young man go out and return with a pall of icy water from the deep well.

He was panting as though the exertion of putting up the well bucket was too much for his puny etrength Most of the atory book heroes would have brought in the well sweep itself on one aboulder!

At that whimsical thought Priscilis laughed outright.

"There! I knew you were all right," cried grandfather, tucking a ahawl around her injured foot. "Mr. Conwell's going to send the doctor up the mountain." He leaned over and kissed his granddaughter.

Before leaving Mr. Conwell disclosed the fact that he had been sent by the Pepporton Pickie and Preaerve company to see Miss Bently with a view to obtaining her services as chief of their "homemade" preserve department Long after he had gone down the mountain, Priscilla lay on the sofs looking out at the sun hlazing over the new-washed world.

He had promised to come back again and his eyes betrayed an intention to return again and yet again until Priscilla bade him stay beaide Grandfather sat nodding and dreaming about coming days of affluence when Priscilla should have her owa pickle factory.

It will be my ambition to serve you in such a way, as to bring no blush of regret to any voter, whether he supported me or not. I could not have won this nomination, without the hearty and active support of my friends in your county, many of whom I would like to especially mention, but the list would make this article too long. Suffice it to say, that you will ever occupy a green spot in my memory, and a warm one in my friendship, and whensoever, I can serve any of you in an honorable way, the night will not be too dark, nor the road too long to prevent me from doing so.

Again thanking you most heartily, from the bottom of my heart. Most sincerely,

GUS THOMAS.

WHY IS A BUTTERFLY CALLED A BUTTERFLY?

Did you ever, when you were young, call yourself Prary Mice, if you name happened to be Mary Price, or talk about tuckleberry harts when you meant huckleberry tarts? If you never did do these things you were unusual. Most children reverse the initial sound of two words used together just to see what results they can get.

So, It is suggested, the butterfly

Not Generally Understood There is nothing impossible about a white blackbird or a brown blackbear. In this connection "black" means a variety, not a color. The Yellow sea is not yellow, and the White mountains are not white.

With the very young children it is essential to have a fixed regularity in the daily routine, if it can possibly be carried out. This is necessary because it is the only way of getting children into the habit of disposing of the daily necessities in a routine at once, if you want to sell. way. In the matter of eating, sleeping and dressing, in putting away RADFORD & JOHNSON. ing and dressing, in putting away toys and clothes, in table manners and in the details of courteous conduct, the routine may be observed with never an exception. It is apparently the only way of making sure of the habits. You know the saying about heing offered an inch and taking a Weil, that seems to be particularly true of children in the way of learning the rules of life's game. A change from the ordinary means a license to ignore the rule. During this period, therefore, every departure from the routine involves a serious setback. MUST BEGIN AT THE BOTTOM

First Thing to Do is to Improve Bad Dirt Roads—Money Required is Astonishingly Small.

The dirt roads are the real high you would have little use for macadam roads or other highways of like character. In the road fahrle we must hegin at the bottom. As the dirt roads are improved year by year, by process of evolution, when necessity requires a certain percentage of them will become trunk lines and be converted into rock, macadam, concrete or roads of like character. This will come about when the hetterment of the dirt roads has so improved agricultural and other communities through which they pass that the wealth and population and commerce justify it.

We cannot make all the roads rock, macadam or concrete roads, but we can make all our bad dirt roads good dirt roads. We can make the rock, macadam or concrete roads in certain sections and communities where country growth, weaith, population and volume of heavy traffic demand and justify it. The amount of money really required to convert a bad dirt road into a good dirt road by the use of modern road equipment is astonish-

Where the roads from the farm to the railway station are partly bad dirt roads, partly good dirt roads and partiy rock, concrete or macadam roads, the farmer must gauge his load not by the good dirt road, not by the good macadam road over which he passes a part of the distance, but by the bad ilrt road he must travel. What we should do is to improve the road. ganging the load the producer must haui. If he has to struggle with bad dirt roads, he is the man we wish to serve. These roads are the arteries of the commerce of the soil, and our very life, credit, prosperity, education, church and future interests depend upon them

The closer we place the producer to the markets the lower will be our cost of living. The roads which serve the producers today are the dirt roads, roads of the people, roads reaching every community, and 50 years from now the great majority of the roads serving the producers will still be dirt roads. We must deal with things real, not ideal!-Gov. Major of Mis

VALUE OF BETTER HIGHWAYS

Man Looking for Location is Likely to Judge Neighborhood by Kind of Roads it Maintains.

Are you doing anything for good Is your community doing anything? Is your county alive to the value of rock roads, roads of a permanent type? If you are a farmer you ought to be able to realize the value of hetter highways more keenly than any other citizen.

It is a fact that the chance visitor and the man who is looking for a location are likely to judge a neighborhood or a region by the kind of highways it maintains. Stretches of mud holes blast a community's reputation. Bad roads kill church life and choke education. Churches and schools are dependent very markedly upon good roads. Where the roads are stretches of mud in winter and dust and old ruts in summer, neither schools nor churches may flourish.

When you find a farmer who opposes good roads and fights a reasonable taxation for building better highways you will find a man who is a drawback to his community.

The Split-Log Drag.

The split-log drag has contributed more toward the economic maintenance of public highways than any implement of modern usage. It does not require special acts of the legislature, bond issues, nor expensive educational campaigns to make it available as usually precedes construction work

The jealousy which nearly always

Ferrell's Boys Ernest Campbell, 82-83, Hop., Ky.

SOON after the death of Maj. Ferrell, the writer, with much trouble and painstaking, assisted by Mrs. Ferrell and her son, the late Chiles Clifton Ferrell, went over the school records of 30 years and compiled the list of students. This list has been revised and brought up to date, a few names added and some corrections made.

The list of 621 names here given is as complete and as nearly correct as it could be made.
